Using and sharing your information

The data controller is Natural England, Foundry House, 3 Millsands, Riverside Exchange, Sheffield S3 8NH

Your information will be stored and processed by Natural England in accordance with the Data Protection Act 1998. This Act gives individuals the right to know what data we hold on you, how we use it, with whom we share it; and for it to be accurate. It will be used for administering and analysing applications/agreements under Countryside Stewardship and Environmental Stewardship Schemes. It will be circulated and discussed in confidence with people and organisations who help Natural England to assess and monitor the application/agreement. Some information will be shared with other grant distribution bodies and Government Departments to help them to detect fraudulent applications/agreements and to co-ordinate the processing of complementary agreements. To do this we may have to discuss applications/agreements with third parties or disclose information about funding decisions.

Because participation in these schemes involves expenditure of public money and there is public interest in how the money is spent, Natural England may also make the information you provide in this form publicly available. Natural England or its appointed agents may use the name, address and other details on this form to contact you in connection with occasional customer research aimed at improving the services that Natural England provides to you.

We will respect personal privacy, whilst complying with access to information requests to the extent necessary to enable Natural England to comply with its statutory obligations under the Environmental Information Regulations 2004, and the Freedom of Information Act 2000.
